The Fabulous Fox River Water Trail has been in development for several years with organizers from two states working with the National Park Service, SE Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, and Fox River Ecosystem Partnership.

Volunteer paddlers assisted to collect data on access sites, journey segments, hazards, dams and portages, amenities at access sites, and more. The Core Development Team is ready to share the results of those efforts and look for input from stakeholders to share their knowledge of the river to help fill in gaps and other information before submitting an application for inclusion in the National Water Trail System.

Please join us at the Open House closest to you to learn and share.
